

UNIT II: Elements of Written Communication

1. Write short notes on- 1) Affixation 2) Acronyms.

2. i) Write one synonym of the word- Hostile
ii) Write one antonym of the word-Despair
iii) Write one word substitution for- Centre of public attention.

3. Explain the requisites of writing a good paragraph highlighting Unity and Coherence. Illustrate how these qualities contribute to effective professional communication.

4. Discuss the difference between Inductive and deductive methods of paragraph writing, with suitable examples.

5. What do you mean by compounding and blending in Word Formation Process?

6. What are the various techniques of Paragraph Construction? Write a paragraph in deductive paragraph construction method.

7. Write Synonym and Antonym of both the words written below: (i) Deride (ii) Persuade.

8. Write some effective techniques and methods for paragraph development?

9. i- Write the One-Word Substitutes for the following: a. Brother or sister. b. An act of identifying a disease, illness or problem by examining someone or something.
ii- Write Synonyms and Antonyms of both the words below: a. Ascend b. Demolish.

10. What are the key elements involved in developing a paragraph? Explain thoroughly.

11. What are the major kinds of word formation techniques? Give suitable examples to explain.

12. Discuss spatial, linear and chronological methods with clear explanations also provide one example for each.

13. Make sentences for the following homophones to highlight difference in the meaning of the given words- a) Accept & Except b) Knead and Need.

14. Discuss in detail the methods of paragraph development employed in technical writings.

15. Develop the following topic sentence into paragraphs with 300 words: "There are several ways in which we communicate using modern technology".

16. Using deductive order technique, develop the following topic sentence into a paragraph of about 200 words: "In the coming decades road transport will face serious problems".

17. Write the suitable word as instructed in the bracket : i) Hideous(synonym), ii) Docile(antonym), iii) Avert, Advert(homophone), iv) One who runs away from justice (one word).

18. What is the role of unity and coherence to develop the paragraph? Explain it.